BOARD OF ADJUSTMENT

(Supplemental questionnaire continued - Please use additional lines on last page or add additional pages if necessary.)

Following is a hypothetical case regarding an application for a variance.

Jean Smith wants to build her dream home on a lot she recently purchased. This neighborhood was almost entirely build-out in the 1970's except for a few remaining vacant lots. A new zoning ordinance was adopted for our town in the early 1990's, which changed the setback requirements and height limit applicable to Jean's neighborhood. Approximately 60% of the existing older homes do not conform to the new setback and height restrictions.

Jean Smith wants a variance so that she can build in conformance with the old setback requirements as 60% of her neighbors did. Jean Benefactor also wants a height variance so that she can have additional sleeping quarters for many orphans she cares for.

The following issues arise at the Board of Adjustment hearing:

1. Assuming Jean's lot and her neighbors' lots are similar, would you vote to grant the setback variance? Please explain.

---

---

---

---

---

2. Will the fact that Jean is performing a tremendous public service justify the height variance? Why or why not?

---

---

3. There are a number of lots, due to their topography, that are much more expensive to build on when conformance to the strict terms of the code is enforced. Do you believe that economics should be a factor in considering a variance? If so, to what degree?

4. A resident has applied to the Committee of Architecture to build an addition onto their home, which would encroach into the rear yard setback area as established in both the restrictive covenants and the Zoning Ordinance. The Committee of Architecture approved a variance from the restrictive covenants and the resident applies for a variance from the Zoning Ordinance. None of the neighbors object, but no special circumstances exist. The resident wants the addition to serve as a storage room and a bathroom for the swimming pool. The Zoning Ordinance allows the resident to build a detached building to accomplish his needs, but they agree that the detached building is much less desirable and less aesthetically pleasing than the addition. Should a variance be granted because there is not objection and the proposal is more aesthetically pleasing than the limits of other parts of the code will to allow the addition? Please explain.

5. Our current Code regulates development of hillsides. A number of people build large homes and change the grade to nearly the maximum extent possible in setting their homes. After they are in their home, they desire to do further grading to install a swimming pool with an accessory cool deck and patio. This further grading will require them to go beyond the limits established in the Housing Development Standards section of the Zoning Ordinance, so they seek a variance. Do you believe that a variance should be granted to permit grading or disturbance of a hillside beyond the current limits to these people can have a swimming pool?
